My name is Jeff Mulliken, and I live and work in Santa Clara, California, USA.

I work as a software test engineer, working on my companies latest product. I specialize in testing on the various UNIX platforms, and I am definitely an Open Source bigot. 😊

I have set up a Tiki site for use by my department, and am hoping that it will catch on. I am really impressed with the level of functionality that is packed into this product, and the level of professionalism that the team behind it has demonstrated. I look forward to seeing the project grow.

Thanks to all of you for your hard work.

Regards,

Jeff.
