How can we make wikis as common as email?

Using wiki as replacement for email communication during collaboration process is indeed a challenge. Best practices must be established. Seems like there is no natural agreement on this.

Twiki markup test:

The list:

- * List item 1.
 - * List item 2.
 - * Internal list 1.
 - * Internal list 2.

So twiki markup doesn't work.

What about inline HTML?

```
This is bold.
```

```

```

This is larger.

Unfortunately that also doesn't work.

```

